On Friday, March 27th the Methodist Theological School in Ohio (MTSO) hosted the annual meeting of Ohio Private Colleges and University Registrars. Thirty-five individuals were in attendance, representing 21 colleges and universities. Discussion topics for the day included utilizing new technologies and implementing new systems, questions about reporting, residency requirements and transfer credits, retention efforts, degree audit processes, communication strategies and many more.

Cheryl Gloege encouraged everyone to keep networking and plan to attend the Fall OACRAO conference at Maumee Bay. Lunch was catered by City BBQ (see photo by Sue Lamphere), compliments of MTSO's advancement team. Thank you to everyone who participated!

We're six months away from our next OACRAO Conference! The Local Arrangements Committee met at the conference site, Maumee Bay State Park, on March 13th to begin piecing together all of the details in order to provide you with the best experience possible. The dates for the conference this year are October 7-9, 2015 – so mark your calendars now!

Conference registration will open on June 1st, which we hope is helpful to those who might need to split registrations between fiscal years. We are excited to work with such a great group of people this year and are looking forward to helping plan a conference that provides opportunities for learning, networking – and some fun! Stay tuned for addition conference details along the way. If you have any questions, feel free to contact Cheryl Gloege or Steven Mentz.

COLLEGE CREDIT PLUS (CCP) TO DEBUT FALL 2015

You have likely heard of College Credit Plus so we are here to help you with the details. College Credit Plus (CCP) replaces PSEO and post-secondary options formerly available to high school students. Some of the main features of CCP are:

- Students can begin taking college courses as early as 7th grade
- College credit can apply toward high school graduation requirements
- College courses can be offered in high schools or taken online
- High schools will have “pathways” that students may follow leading to 15 or 30 credit hours

Colleges are to use their standard admission criteria for participation in the program regardless of student age. Colleges also must issue a pre-term notice of admission, a confirmation of course enrollment and information on how CCP students can complete standard course evaluations. In addition, all CCP students must be assigned (and meet with) an academic advisor.
