Vol. 15 No.3
Autumn, 2001

Published by the Ohio Association of Collegiate Registrars & Admissions Officers

To my OACRAO colleagues,

The year 2001 is almost over. I am not thinking of the first year of the third millennium, but rather the Arthur C. Clarke's book and Stanley Kubrick's 1968 movie 2001: A Space Odyssey. This came to my mind this morning as I was leaving for work. I was putting some seed in the bird feeder and saw a clear sky, bright stars, and beautiful moon. There are some of us (a few) who remember seeing the movie 2001: A Space Odyssey in the movie theater in 1968. For me that was quite an experience in sight and sound, let alone the implications of technology, also the first minutes with no dialogue was unusual. HAL may not be the threat to life as he was in 1968, but computers are pervasive in our lives.

For entertainment we now have 'Toy Story I and II', 'Shrek', 'Jurassic Park I, II, and III', 'The Mummy', 'Star Wars I, II, IV, V, ...' where realistic(?) worlds are partially or wholly created, or re-created, by using computers. The mapping of the human DNA has been completed. Doctors can practice surgeries on a virtual patient. Cars, planes, and microwave ovens are designed on computers. We have lap top computers more powerful and with more storage capacity than old mainframe computers that occupied whole rooms. We live in a world of the internet, URLs, email, hyper links, search engines, portals, voice mail, pagers, cell phones, PDAs.

On our campuses we have intranets, firewalls, relational databases, fourth generation reporting systems, and 'smart' systems. Using the web we offer virtual tours of our college campuses, on-line applications, viewing and accepting of financial aid, viewing dorm rooms, meeting the roommate, registration for classes, viewing grades, viewing the transcript, ordering books, and paying bills.

Courses are offered on the internet. Our libraries have books and journals 'on-line'. Faculty can have on-line office hours. Students can meet in course chat rooms. As I was writing this I received an email reminder that my enrollment report is due to the Clearinghouse.

Take some time away from your office and come to the 75th annual OACRAO meeting in Worthington, November 7 to 9. Hear about the technological 'opportunities' we have now and will encounter in the future. Meet colleagues who have faced or are facing technology situations similar to your own. We all can learn from each other how to deal with the challenges we face in our profession. Build that network of professionals who can be called upon when questions arise.

The OACRAO Annual Conference is fast approaching. The Local Arrangements Committee and the Program Committee have planned many fun activities for you in the Columbus area and a very intriguing program for a variety of interests.

Our plenary speaker, Dr. Dennis Hicks, Registrar at East Indiana University, will speak on "The Evolution of Our Professions". No longer are we the old fuddy duddies locked in dark rooms filled with reams of paper. Our profession is continually evolving and we must change with it. Learn about how far we have come and where we have yet to move in his enlightening and humorous presentation

Bob Myers, Vice President of Programs, and his committee have worked many hours on the program sessions. In addition to our old standbys, such as FERPA and changing to a new student system, there will be new sessions of interest, like "Registrar's Horror Stories - You're Not the Only One" or "Is There Life After OACRAO?". Our Historian, Dave Sauter, will present a session "OACRAO History - What's Dave Got In Those Boxes?". You won't want to miss any sessions!

Workshops provide an opportunity to learn about topics in an extended format. And, for the first time at OACRAO, a post-conference workshop will be offered on Friday afternoon - and it's FREE!! See the next page for more information about the workshop offerings.

Our closing session, "The Zesty Administrator: Cooking Up the Recipe for a Delicious Work Life", will be presented by Dr. Rich Hollingsworth, Special Assistant - Student Affairs at The Ohio State University. He has often been a speaker at Ohio State functions, including Commencement and new student orientation. His presentation about the many hats we wear in our profession and our personal life will entertain and motivate you.

The Vendor Showcase held on Thursday will allow a large number of representatives to share their products with attendees. Thursday will also feature vendor sessions and the vendor reception.

New members will be greeted on Wednesday by the Membership and Mentoring Committee at an welcome lunch and a new-member session. Check your registration packet for more information and sessions that may be of particular interest to newer members.

And of course, let's not forget the evening entertainment - Wednesday's pizza party with games and the first OACRAO euchre tournament and Thursday's Mystery Dinner Theatre. Plus, the Columbus Area has many fun things to do outside of the conference. Directly across from the hotel is the Worthington Mall and just north on High Street is the Crosswoods Centre, full of many fine eateries. Of course, for those of you with a penchant for shopping, you will need to mark your calendar to visit our newest malls, Easton Town Center and Polaris Fashion Place. New stores to the Columbus area and Ohio will be featured in each location, including Kaufmans, Lord and Taylor, Saks Fifth Avenue, Nordstroms and The Container Store. Surely a shopper's paradise!

Check the OACRAO website for more information and complete your conference registration on-line at <http://www.oacrao.ohiou.edu/oacrao2001.HTML>. Be sure to mention "OACRAO" when contacting the hotel at 614-436-0700 or e-mailing tmedley@alliancehospitalityinc.com to get the special rate of $73.00 per night.

See you in November!

OACRAO 2001 CONFERENCE WORKSHOPS

Believe it or not, it is almost time for our Annual Conference! Your 2001 LAC and Program Committees have been hard at work planning a conference filled with informative sessions and wonderful events. Don't forget to come to the conference early and attend one of the three pre-conference workshops being offered on Wednesday morning or stay on Friday afternoon for our first ever post-conference workshop. To register for any of the workshops listed below, fill out the appropriate section on the registration form in your OACRAO 2001 Registration Packet (or do it on the web at www.oacrao.ohiou.edu). The three pre-conference workshops are available at a cost of $25, which includes the workshop, all materials, continental breakfast and lunch. The post-conference workshop is free of charge and includes the workshop, all materials and a refreshment break.

Workshop #1 – The FISH! Philosophy of Customer Service

In Seattle, there is a fish market where the employees combine fun, passion, and individual accountability to their work. Their jobs are cold, wet and smelly and yet this group of employees has found a way to make it an enjoyable place to work and an incredible place to visit by choosing the attitudes they bring with them everyday. Inspired by this, ChartHouse Learning made the employees at Pike's Place Fish Market the subject of a corporate learning video called FISH! The video has become a worldwide business phenomenon - - not only is it highly entertaining, but it embraces the philosophy that people must decide for themselves whether or not an organization's vision is worth committing to. Come see the video and listen to Jeff Allen, Director of Organization Development in the Office of Enrollment Services at The Ohio State University, talk about how you can empower your employees to choose their attitude and bring a new level of satisfaction to their work.

Workshop #2 – Records Retention and Recent OBR Audits

With the recent flurry of Ohio Board of Regents audits around the state, it is becoming increasingly important that we examine our records retention policies and ensure we are keeping appropriate records. Come listen to Beverly Farmer from the Ohio Board of Regents talk about the types of documents that will be examined and what specifically the Regents are looking for when they conduct an audit. Also hear from a panel of OACRAO Registrars who have recently undergone audits on their experiences and their advice on how to prepare (including one who was the subject of a surprise audit!).

Workshop #3 – Emerging Trends That Will Impact Your Ability to Recruit Students and Market Your Institution

This session will explore how today's rapidly changing marketplace will impact colleges' and universities' ability to recruit students. It will examine the major demographic and social characteristics of tomorrow's students and review how their educational needs and expectations are evolving. The presentation will outline the college-choice characteristics of most interest to these students, pinpoint the majors most in demand, and highlight the recruiting and marketing strategies—including technology and the Internet—to which students are most likely to respond.

Stick around Friday afternoon and attend OACRAO's first "post-conference" workshop. Not only will this be an informative session, it is also FREE! Because AACRAO has agreed to pay all expenses for the workshop, we are able to offer it to you at no charge (workshop materials and a refreshment break are included).

Workshop #4 – IPEDS Triplets – Look What They Want Us to Do Now!

If you are involved in IPEDS reporting, you can't miss this workshop! Sponsored by AACRAO, in collaboration with the Association for Institutional Research (AIR) and the U.S. Department of Education, this workshop will be facilitated by Jim Noe (Mt. Carmel College of Nursing) and Stu Terrass (Mount Union College). Jim and Stu will discuss the final two of the three reporting sequences (the IPEDS Triplets), present information on the new IPEDS winter collection components and provide an overview of the spring components. Featuring new system architecture, the winter collection re-establishes employee reporting, including revised faculty salary and staff data. Winter requirements, including changes, will be covered in detail. Although there are few changes to spring reporting, an overview of the surveys will be given. There will also be a brief update on changes to the Peer Analysis and COOL databases. If available, information will be provided on the new Racial/Ethnic Categories. This workshop will provide detailed information on the IPEDS redesign and its impact on the data submission requirements for colleges and universities. Stay for the closing session, grab some lunch at one of the area restaurants and then join your colleagues for the IPEDS Triplets Session!

Nominees for 2001-2002 Officers

The slate of officers for the 2001-2002 OACRAO Executive Board has been set. The vote will be conducted during our November conference. A brief biography of each follows:

His OACRAO participation is highlighted by serving as Treasurer, member of the Nominating Committee, Chair of Audit Committee, Chair of Data Management & Research Committee, member of LAC, and presenter at sessions. Allen also actively participates in AACRAO, the Conference of Registrars at Jesuit Colleges, software users groups, and he attended the 1999 Registrars' Summer Institute in Aspen.

Secretary: Ray Elash is the Director of Registration & Student Records at Sinclair Community College in Dayton, Ohio. Ray's responsibilities at Sinclair include all aspects of the Registration Process, Records Process, Admission Process, & International Student Admissions, as well as serving as FERPA Officer. Don states "I am honored to be considered for this position and will devote the time necessary to assuring that we have quality programs addressing current needs."

Vice-President, Membership and Mentoring (subject to approval of the Constitution and Bylaws at the annual meeting): Bob Myers is Assistant Registrar at Ohio University. He received a BSE Degree from Indiana University and a Master's from Ball State University. Bob first entered into higher-ed work as Part-time Manager of the Indiana University Memorial Student Union while doing his undergraduate studies. Before getting into higher education Bob enjoyed a career in Public Parks and Recreation Administration. Bob has been a member of OACRAO since 1991 and AACRAO since 1986, plus four years in RMACRAO (Rocky Mountain States) while at Colorado Mountain College. He is currently on Executive Committee as Vice President of Programs and has served as Secretary and was an active member of the Local Arrangements Committee in 1999. Historian's Corner

The Making of a President... Moored and Moving

I have been asked to lead a session at the OACRAO 2001 Annual Meeting this November, and so in the months ahead I will be "digging in the boxes" to take a new look at just what historical files we have. In the meantime, this month's article is a different interpretation of a "work in progress," as it traces an early letter to an AACRAO presidency. The next article (a pre-conference newsletter) will focus on the beginnings of what we currently call the Membership and Mentoring Committee.

If you re-read the title of this article, "The Making of a President" coupled with "Moored and Moving," you are probably wondering what they have in common. Editor's privilege enables me to weave them together, like this (complete with editor's notes!):

September 10, 1976

*Mr. Howard Baldwin
Registrar
University of Akron
Akron, Ohio 44325*

Dear Mr. Baldwin (Historian's note: former OACRAO President)

For the past several years, I've become keenly interested in increasing my activity in OACRAO. I realize there are many well-qualified persons to serve on the committees of the Association and that the opportunities for committee work are limited. Unless one points out that he is more than willing, indeed even desirous, of a committee membership, the chance will never be available. It is the reason I write to you.

Historian's Note: The writer of the letter was a relatively new professional MOORED in place at Miami University as Assistant Registrar during Ken Bogard's long and outstanding tenure as University Registrar. While MOORED, clearly the writer was looking to be MOVING ahead, both as a registrar and within the organization.

I have submitted, as in the past, a Professional Background and Participation Form to Wealthie Prince. Quite frankly, it is almost blank even though I have availed myself of every opportunity for professional development which has presented itself.

Historian's Note: The writer was making himself available...OACRAO needed to make the next move, which fortunately did occur. Slowly but ever so surely, the writer acquired both the registrar skills and the professional development skills, and the rest, as they say, is "history!"

Would you and the Executive Committee please keep in mind my name when considering the committee appointments and/or vacancies during the upcoming year. I'm sure Ken would serve as a reference for me if one is needed or desired.

Sincerely,

X

"Moored and Moving"

Assistant Registrar

Historian's note: The Queen Elizabeth III, permanently docked in California, is "MOORED and MOVING." She is indeed "permanently MOORED, held by virtually unbreakable rope...yet at the same time she can be MOVING as the captain imposes some ballast adjustments or the tide comes and goes. Might we describe a successful professional and personal life the same way?

In this 1976 letter came a sense of stability, yet some yearning...all it took was a receptive OACRAO to play "matchmaker." So my "Historian's challenge" is this: If you are a newcomer to the profession, I

The Scholarship Committee is pleased to announce the selection of five outstanding recipients for the OACRAO 2001 Leadership and Service Scholarship. The five recipients were chosen after an intensive review of over 900+ applications. Each scholarship recipient will receive $500.00.

The 2001 scholarship recipients are:

• Jonathan Kissell who is a graduate of La Salle High School. He plans to attend the University of Dayton.

• Katrina Nienberg who is a graduate of Mc Comb High School. She plans to attend Miami University.

• Rebecca Payne who is a graduate of Danville High School. She plans to attend Youngstown State University.

• Thomas Rupe who is a graduate of Struthers High School. He plans to attend Youngstown State University.

• Mark Waller who is a graduate of Waterford High School. He plans to attend Muskingum College.

I wish to thank the OACRAO Executive Committee and the OACRAO membership for their support. As a result of the Executive Committee's commitment and the generous contributions from the OACRAO membership the Scholarship Committee was able to offer five scholarships this year. I would also like to salute the members of this year's scholarship committee who worked very hard to distribute and review the scholarship applications. The scholarship committee requires a lot of time commitment; however, it is also very rewarding. Thanks!

On behalf of the entire OACRAO Executive Committee and the OACRAO membership I also want to thank Mr. Joe Orndorf, President, Script-Safe Security Products, Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio. Script-Safe is our first corporate sponsor. Joe —Thank you very much!

This year, we will again offer the popular "Split the Pot" tickets at the 2001 Conference in Columbus. If you're planning on attending the conference this year please stop by the Scholarship Committee table and purchase some chances. You may also want to consider making a contribution to the scholarship fund. With your help the scholarship program will continue to grow.

Our committee looks forward to seeing you in Columbus.

If you are a more seasoned professional, I would challenge you to help others...and yourself, of course...remain both MOORED yet MOVING, as was done for the writer of this 1976 letter, paying attention to your own life's journey as well.

Summer 2001 Workshop Review

Hard to believe that summer is over and fall quarters/semesters are underway again! And what a busy summer it was, with two very successful workshops: the 5th Annual Residency Officers Update on June 27th and our first ever Support Staff Day on July 25th. Below is a brief synopsis of each of the summer workshops:

5th Annual Residency Officers Update – June 27th Younkin Success Center at The Ohio State University

51 people attended the Residency Officers Update, including 5 representatives from the Ohio Board of Regents and an Immigration Inspector with the Immigration and Naturalization Services. In the morning, attendees received information from Jay Johnson, Manager of the Enrollment Data Area at the Ohio Board of Regents, about a number of “hot” issues for residency officers such as:

- Residency guidelines as they apply to Distance Learning coursework
- Consortium agreements with institutions outside the State of Ohio
- Residency guidelines for prison inmates
- An update on Senate Bill 53
- National Guard residency eligibility update

We were also fortunate to have Allen Vanscoy, an Immigration Inspector from the Immigration and Naturalization Services at the meeting to provide detailed information on the processes that immigrants go through in order to obtain permanent resident, political asylee and refugee statuses. Allen also spent time answering questions about various visa statuses. The afternoon was spent with Dave Axsom (Ohio University), Susan Cole (Kent State University) and Ray Elash (Sinclair Community College). Each shared the processes that they use at their institutions to determine residency status.

Support Staff Day – July 25th Younkin Success Center at The Ohio State University

Intended for staff that typically do not attend OACRAO functions, our first ever Support Staff Day was a resounding success! 66 people were in attendance for a fun and informative day. The morning session was spent with Dr. Jephtha Hostetler, who is quickly becoming an OACRAO favorite (he was the highly rated keynote speaker at OACRAO '98 in Columbus and again at the Great Lakes conference in 2000). Dr. Jep provided a highly entertaining session on the “humor umbrella” and “joy factor” and threw in some amazing magic tricks throughout the morning...ask your staff how to make a chicken out of a napkin!!

Later in the afternoon, the group heard a presentation from Kelly Koren (The Ohio State University) and Megan Webb (Capitol University) on Job Burnout. Kelly and Megan provided great tips for recognizing burnout in yourself and some suggestions on ways to deal with it. The day wound up with an informative presentation by OACRAO's “FERPA Doctor”, Brad Myers. Brad's group study exercise (using real FERPA cases) was an eye opener to many and offered a chance for the group to mingle with those from other institutions.

For those of you who did not send staff to this wonderful event, keep your eyes peeled for information on a second Support Staff Day late winter or early spring!

Winter, 2001

Published by the Ohio Association of Collegiate Registrars & Admissions Officers

Happy New Year and welcome to the third millennium. I hope all of you had a 'white' holiday.

I hope that you enjoyed the Great Lakes 2000 conference in Toledo. We all should congratulate Lorinda Bishop and Dave Sauter as the Ohio representatives on the LAC and who bore the major load in making things work smoothly and to Brad Myers who coordinated the combining of session topics from the three state program committees into a single conference schedule.

another excellent conference for all of us. The program committees need your suggestions for session topics for the 2001 conference in Columbus. In addition to suggesting a topic, if you are willing make a presentation your effort is very valuable to OACRAO and all in our profession. You don't need to be an expert to become involved in a presentation (individual, panel, or roundtable).

Please remember to check the OACRAO web site for information about your association.

In December your executive committee had a transition meeting at the Pontifical College Josephinum. We are looking forward to the planning meeting in February at Mt. Carmel with all of the program committee members to create

Debra Benton Receives Linus B. Ryland Award

Debra Benton, Associate Registrar at Ohio University, was awarded the Linus B. Ryland Award for her dedication and personal and professional contributions to OACRAO. She has served multiple years as a committee member, a program committee chair, a presenter and most recently as a co-chair for LAC. Deb's crowning achievement is the OACRAO website, a project that she established and maintains, and that often times requires long hours and communications with numerous individuals. Because of the high quality of work she has performed, OACRAO received a state and regional excellence award from AACRAO for our fantastic website. It was OACRAO's website that was used this year as the conference site for GL2000. Congratulations Deb!

Carter from Central State University. The committee also sold chances on a ride for two on the Goodyear Blimp in Akron and successfully raised $709.00 for the scholarship fund. The winner of the Goodyear Blimp ride was Henry Pearce from Poland, Ohio. We also received individual contributions from the conference registrations and during the conference.

We feel that we had a successful year and raised over $1,200.00 for the scholarship fund. One important accomplishment during the conference was the generous commitment of corporate sponsorship for the scholarship fund from Joe Orndorff, Scrip-Safe Security Products, Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio. The details of this sponsorship will be finalized and approved by the OACRAO Executive Committee.

Thank you again for your support!

Workshops Updates

Greetings from your “retired” VP for Workshops! Although I am on to my next exciting role as president-elect, I could not let an opportunity go by for me to talk (or write). In the fall of 1998, I remember worrying about the two year time commitment and work involved with workshop coordination on top of my “day job”. How was I ever going to manage?!? It did not take long for me to breathe a sigh of relief realizing that I had a great support group among my OACRAO friends, and particularly the Executive Committee. Coordinating the summer and fall workshops has been a GREAT experience because of the support and creativity of all of you that I have had an opportunity to work with the last two years.

As I relinquish my Workshop VP position to Mindy

Starcher, I ask you give her that same support. Stay connected, take the opportunity through workshops to network with your OACRAO colleagues a few times a year, and promote our OACRAO workshops with your staff, as well. I am excited that I will have an opportunity to work with Mindy the next two years and look for some exciting workshop topics during her tenure as VP for Workshops.

For those of you who were not able to make it to the Great Lakes 2000 conference in November, I have attached my workshop report which I shared at our state business meeting. Looking forward to my next three years as I start with President-Elect, and then....

Historian's Corner

Dear OACRAO Colleagues,

It truly seems “only yesterday” that Ken Bogard, retired Miami University Registrar, took me under his wing as I began my career in higher education. To be asked to serve as OACRAO Historian is indeed a pleasure, and I hope to be able to provide information to you in the same warm and caring way as the late Fr. Clarence DeRuntz did when he held the position. For those of you newer to the profession, Fr. DeRuntz was the retired Registrar at the Pontifical College Josephinum, and was an inspirational person for those of us privileged to know him.

With that background, then, what is an historian? Per Webster: “a writer of history, producing a compilation or chronicle.” Perhaps what I can do best is to find ways...via this newsletter, of responding to your interests, exploring the archives, etc...to remind us of where we have been as we chart new waters in this new millennium. Perhaps it would be to help you formulate your own OACRAO history of volunteerism using the information contained in newsletters and conference booklets.

As a point of interest, there are thirteen OACRAO boxes now located in the “dungeon” of Wright State University. It is interesting that one of the newest public universities in Ohio now stores such rich history! My goal in the months ahead is to provide a “corner” of news in this newsletter to bring each of us a glimpse of the past. Along the way I hope to organize the information to help preserve it. For your part, please contact me at any time if you have some “digging” to do into the OACRAO past...whether it be for the organization, an institution, or a member. I will try my best to “play detective” for you.

I believe that truly the best days lie ahead for us both individually and collectively. At the same time, however, I am keenly aware of the importance of our past...so thank you for entrusting me with a small part of the task.

With best professional regards,

Dave Sauter

· as a recorder for a program session at an annual meeting – the next one is in Columbus November 7, 8, & 9, 2001.

- as a chair for a program session at an annual meeting.

The Great Lakes 2000 conference was held in Toledo, Ohio, November 1-3. This event was the first joint meeting of members from Indiana, Michigan and Ohio AACRAO affiliates. Responses to the session presenters and topics were very favorable, thanks to the hard work of the Program Committee, chaired by Brad Myers.

Jep Hostetler, Magician and Humor Consultant, was the opening speaker and provided the group with a rousing presentation on "The Joy Factor". His reflections on life and its many challenges presented situations members could identify with and hopefully approach in the future with laughter and joy.

An evening at COSI was interesting and provided an opportunity to chat with others as well as sample various foods. Many showed their expertise in sports and other physical challenges.

Special thanks are due to the entire local arrangements committee, chaired by Lorinda Bishop, for providing us with a great time in Toledo.

Annual Conference

Plans have begun for an exciting 2001 conference in Central Ohio. Mark your calendars now for November 7-9! We will be at the Clarion Hotel in Worthington, Ohio, on the northern edge of Columbus. Beside all the interesting topics to be presented and discussed at the conference, the Columbus area provides many fun things to do, including many fine dining spots, our new NHL hockey team, and lots of shopping options.

The Local Arrangements Committee has already begun their task and plans to offer a variety of activities for your enjoyment as you network with old friends and meet many new ones.
